

a baby racoon lives in the woods chasing butterflies in wild flowers

One day a forest fire came and took the butterflies away There is also no more flowers

Baby raccoon asked humans and AI to help They are guardians of the land, air and waters

Fires still come but are not so big, hot and scary... Soon there will be more butterflies, berries and wild flowers.

